SUMMARY

Senior Full Stack Mobile & Web Developer with 7+ years of experience building production-grade iOS, Android, and Python-based web applications. Proven track record of delivering 20+ live apps on the App Store and Play Store, along with multiple large-scale web platforms used by thousands to millions of users.

Strong expertise in React Native, TypeScript, and modern UI/UX architecture, combined with solid backend and web development experience using Python (Flask/FastAPI), API design, and scalable system integration. Experienced in performance optimization, real-time features, and building end-to-end products from concept to deployment.

Worked on enterprise-level software solutions and contributed to 7+ large-scale web applications alongside mobile platforms. Hands-on experience integrating AI capabilities, including LLM and OpenAI APIs, into both mobile and web products to deliver intelligent, user-focused features.

Active open-source contributor with experience collaborating across global teams. Recognized for technical excellence and invited by Expensify as a Guest Engineer to Curaçao, highlighting strong industry credibility and international engineering collaboration.
